Item 2 – Material Changes Since Last Annual Update

Last Annual Update: August 10, 2021

Item 18: Financial Information Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Ability to Meet Contractual Commitments to Clients Investment Management must disclose any financial conditions that are likely to impair its ability to meet its contractual obligations as an advisory firm. Since its inception, RMR Wealth Advisors, LLC has been on solid financial ground. On April 8, 2020, in response to circumstances brought about by COVID19 conditions; the adviser obtained Paycheck Protection Program (“PPP”) loans of $71,630.00 for financial assistance to aid in the payment of the salaries of employees who are primarily responsible for performing advisory functions for the firm. Outside of the above, neither the adviser nor its management has any financial conditions that are likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to referred investors. There are no additional financial circumstances to report. The above-mentioned PPP loan was forgiven on January 27, 2021, for the whole amount of $71,630.00 plus interest of $567.07.

Ownership has changed as 100% owner Erik Mikkelson, he has sold a total of 36% interest to 2 new owners. The owners are Doug Giageos & Lisa Sowls. The new ownership breakdown is Erik Mikkelson 64%, Doug Giageos 25% & Lisa Sowls 11%.

Item 4 – ADVISORY BUSINESS

RMR Wealth Advisors, LLC (RMR) is a registered investment adviser specializing in comprehensive financial planning and wealth management services. RMR is owned by Erik Mikkelson, Doug Giageos and Lisa Sowls and is not under common control with any other firm. RMR also does not control any other firm. In July 2003 Mr. Mikkelson co-founded Rich Mikkelson Rich Financial Advisors, LLC (also known as RMR Financial Advisors), assuming sole ownership of RMR Financial Advisors, LLC, in 2009. In 2018, RMR changed its name to RMR Wealth Advisors, LLC. As of December 30, 2021, Doug Giageos and Lisa Sowls have purchased an ownership interest in RMR Wealth Advisors, LLC; thereby becoming co-owners with Erik Mikkelson.

RMR provides advisory services through comprehensive financial planning, consulting, and managing investment advisory accounts. RMR offers several specific advisory programs and services in the following areas:

- 1) Comprehensive Financial Planning Service,
- 2) Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service,
- 3) Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis,
- 4) Investment Manager Search and Monitoring,
- 5) Retirement Plan Consulting, and
- 6) Family Office Services.

RMR's services involve different custodial and administrative services and fee arrangements. We provide investment advice involving various types of investments, including stocks, mutual funds, bonds, annuities, exchange traded funds, and options and futures.

We believe in following a financial planning process at RMR. For services we provide, your current financial status is evaluated, then long and short-term investment objectives, needs, goals and risk tolerance are established (both ability and willingness to take risk). This information is gathered to help both you and RMR make more informed decisions about the kinds and types of financial strategies to recommend and the suitability of investments and investment allocations. You may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. You may also contact your RMR advisor representative at any time.

We offer our advisory services for various fee arrangements dependent on your chosen service and service level. In addition to hourly or fixed fee agreements, a percentage of assets under management or fixed fee plus percentage of assets under management are offered through our wrap fee program, described further in our Part 2A "Wrap Fee" Appendix 1 Brochure. A "wrap fee" is a single fee which covers both advisory services and certain transaction costs. Assets in the wrap fee program are regularly monitored and investment strategy purchase and sale transactions are based on your specific needs and investment goals. RMR receives a portion of the wrap fees for our service. Hourly or fixed fees may be negotiated for special situations.

RMR does not assure or guarantee the results of any of its recommendations; thus, losses can occur because of following our advice pertaining to any investment or investment approach, including using conservative investment strategies. All advice is based on information provided by you. It is your responsibility to be certain that RMR has current and accurate information.

IRA Rollover Recommendation

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- 1) Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice).
- 2) Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice).
- 3) Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments.
- 4) Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest.
- 5) Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- 6) Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

Our total assets under management as of December 31, 2021, was approximately $382,508,134. $376,730,775 is discretionary and $5,777,359 is non-discretionary.

Comprehensive Financial Planning Service

Comprehensive Financial Planning begins with extensive data gathering and a needs analysis by one of our Investment Advisor Representatives ("IAR," "advisor" or "representative"). Once data gathering is completed, your current financial position, including your investment portfolio, is evaluated, then long term investment objectives, needs, goals and tolerance to risks are established. Based on this information, your advisor determines the kinds of financial strategies to recommend. A plan establishes a "blueprint" for present and future actions. After you have received and reviewed the plan and have agreed to proceed, your advisor works with you in implementing your plan.

The Comprehensive Financial Planning Service is on-going and is offered in conjunction with our wrap fee program. Please see Part 2A "Wrap Fee" Appendix 1 Brochure for more information on this service.

Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service

Your Investment Advisor Representative will obtain financial data from you and assist you in determining investment objectives and initial investments. After establishing an investment account, your Representative will regularly monitor the account, your cash flows, and make investment strategy recommendations based on your specific needs and investment goals.

The Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service is provided under our Wrap Fee program. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure for information on this service.

Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis

Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis services are designed to assist you in making complex financial decisions and achieving peace of mind. The scope of the engagement is defined individually. These services may or may not include written analyses and may or may not be comprehensive.

Specific Analysis may entail performing a specific analysis of individual assets such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities, life insurance and health insurance policies. The service may also include assisting employers and/or employees in providing advice on types of investment plans and the selection of various types of investments within a plan. Advice may also be provided concerning the management of death proceeds from life insurance policies and distributions from profit sharing plans and/or retirement plans, or any other analysis requested by you.

Coaching, planning and analysis may include the following:

- 1) Investment consulting
- 2) Retirement funding and income analysis
- 3) Education funding analysis
- 4) Life insurance needs analysis
- 5) Disability insurance needs analysis
- 6) Long-term care insurance needs analysis
- 7) Estate planning analysis
- 8) Tax planning analysis
- 9) Stock option planning analysis
- 10) Detailed financial plan.

Investment Manager Search and Monitoring

For those instances where RMR recommends portfolio management services from an investment management firm in addition to RMR, we offer our Investment Manager Search and Monitoring service.

Our Investment Manager Search and Monitoring service is provided under our Wrap Fee program. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure for information on this service.

Retirement Plan Consulting

RMR offers Retirement Plan Consulting services to companies, including:

- 1) Investment policy formation and financial summaries. To properly review investment performance, it must be measured against specific goals and objectives set forth in your written investment policy statement. We assist you in preparing your statement to the extent you ask for assistance.
- 2) Selection of investment categories. Once an investment policy is developed, RMR assists you by recommending various investment categories for your retirement plan.

- 3) Monitor performance. RMR will monitor performance of the investment choices and provide periodic advice regarding changes to the investment selections.
- 4) Meetings with participants. RMR's staff will meet with plan participants, at group meetings, to describe the investments available to them and distribute information about the investments if you request such services.
- 5) Custodian and administrator selection. Plan custodian and administrator selections are an integral part of establishing a plan and having it work. We will, if needed, assist you by recommending appropriate custodians and plan trustees/administrators. To the extent that you already have a custodian or plan administrator, RMR can, if requested to do so, evaluate the level of services being provided.

All Retirement Plan Consulting advice is based on information you provide us. It is your responsibility to be certain RMR has current and accurate information to enable us to provide advice, and it is your responsibility to inform us of material changes affecting the investments and planning strategies recommended so that we have them for future reference. Retirement Plan Consulting may be provided under our Wrap Fee Services. For those instances, please see Part 2A "Wrap Fee" Appendix 1 Brochure for additional information on this service.

Family Office Services

RMR offers a Family Office Services alternative, for clients with a net worth minimally in the tens of millions. This includes a wide array of in-depth, focused services, typically assisting families with a majority of, or their entire financial situation, including client investments, tax situations, estate planning and family dynamics.

This service is provided under our Wrap Fee program. Please see Part 2A "Wrap Fee" Appendix 1 Brochure for more information on this service.

Item 5 – FEES AND COMPENSATION: YOUR COSTS

RMR and RMR's Investment Advisor Representatives do not receive compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds. As such, there is no incentive to recommend any investment product based on the compensation received rather than on your needs. All mutual funds are considered "no-load" within our Portfolio Management Service, as all mutual funds are purchased at net asset value (no additional load fees).

Comprehensive Financial Planning Service

The cost for the Comprehensive Financial Planning Service is bundled with the Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service under our Wrap Fee program. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure.

Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service

The cost for Portfolio and Cash Flow Management Service is under our Wrap Fee program and may be bundled with our Comprehensive Financial Planning Service or stand alone. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure.

Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis Services

Costs are set at a negotiated rate depending on the anticipated complexity of the services and the anticipated amount of work that will be involved. Costs are an on-going annual rate, a one-time fixed fee or based on a $200 - $500 per hour project fee. Rates are established with you before providing the service. For a short-term project, a six-hour minimum is preferred. A deposit of one-half the total fee, or $500 may be due in advance, with the remainder billed at completion of the service. Under certain circumstances, costs for Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis services may be waived by us in our sole discretion.

Termination: Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis services may be terminated by written notice to us. We will determine the number of hours spent performing the services before receiving the written termination notice from you. Those hours will be billed at the predetermined hourly rate or prorated for the contract term. You will be responsible for any amount earned by us but not paid to the date of termination. This amount will then be subtracted from the initial deposit, if any, and the remainder, if any, will be refunded to you within thirty days of receiving the written termination notice.

Investment Manager Search and Monitoring

Costs for the Investment Manager Search and Monitoring service are under our wrap fee program. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure.

Retirement Plan Consulting

Your costs for Retirement Plan Consulting services are offered through two options. Under the first, your costs are calculated as a percentage of total market value of assets in your Plan on the last reporting day of the previous calendar quarter and are payable before services are provided in accordance with the following fee schedule:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee% (this fee may be negotiable)
$200,000 - $5,000,000	1.0%

Costs applicable to services provided at inception and upon termination shall be prorated for time services are provided during the first and last quarter. All fees due shall be payable calendar- quarterly before services are provided. You grant authority to the retirement plan record keeper (or other custodian of retirement plan assets) to remit the fees directly to RMR from retirement plan assets; however, if you choose to pay these fees directly, you grant authority to RMR to debit your accounts as fees become due. RMR may change its fees upon 30 days advance written notice to you.

Termination: The Agreement may be terminated upon either party providing 30 days written notice to the other party. All fees and charges earned by RMR through the date of termination shall be paid by you within 30 days of termination and any prepaid unearned fees will be prorated and returned.

Your second option is offered under our Wrap Fee program. Please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix I Brochure for additional information.

Family Office Services

Family Office Services are provided under our wrap fee program. For costs, please see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure.

TERMINATION WITHOUT PENALTY

You may terminate your Investment Advisory Agreement for any service described in this brochure by giving RMR a written notice of such termination.

CONSIDERATIONS

Your costs do not include any additional expenses associated with maintaining your account or implementing advice, such as costs incurred by us or you for professional services of an attorney, accountant, and other specialists whose advice we deem necessary to complete our analysis of your financial situation. You are contacted for authorization before any others are employed.

To the extent mutual funds are included as managed assets, you should be aware that such funds also deduct their own advisory fees and expenses, which affects the fund's reported performance. Such costs are in addition to our fee. Depending upon the fund, you may be able to invest directly in the shares of a fund without incurring any sales or advisory management fees. In addition, there may be tax effects pertaining to fund share redemptions. Redemptions may be taxable events which may accelerate the recognition of capital gains, and frequent redemptions may result in short term, rather than long term, capital gains.

For additional information on RMR’s brokerage practices, see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure, Brokerage Practices section.

Item 6 – PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

RMR does not charge any performance-based fees. All fees are disclosed above. RMR does not participate in any side-by-side management.

Item 7 – TYPES OF CLIENTS

RMR provides investment advice to individuals; trusts, estates, or charitable organizations; corporations, or other business entities. For portfolios supervised on a continuous, discretionary basis, RMR imposes an initial minimum asset value of $250,000. However, we can waive the minimum depending upon the type of account, the kind of securities in your account, dollar value of securities, projected nature of trading and other services for the account and the amount of work necessary to manage the account. Clients utilizing Family Office Services have a net worth of $10,000,000 or higher.

Item 8 – METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

RMR offers advice on equity securities (exchange-listed securities, securities traded over the counter, foreign issues); corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper); commercial paper; certificates of deposit; municipal securities; investment company securities (variable life insurance, variable annuities, mutual fund shares); United States government securities; option contracts on securities; interests in partnerships investing in real estate, and oil and gas interests. We may also provide advice on any other products which we deem to be appropriate to meet your goals and objectives. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear as a possibility.

RMR's security analysis methods include fundamental analysis. Our advisors use research material provided by others, including security analysts, investment management firms, economists, investment advisors, and rating services such as Morningstar. We conduct personal meetings and phone calls, attend conferences and teleconferences with investment managers and investment manager representatives.

Sources of information we utilize in rendering investment advice include financial newspapers and magazines; research materials prepared by others; corporate rating services; annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission; and company press releases. Other sources of information include publications such as Morningstar reports, The Wall Street Journal, and research information received from the Internet and peers.

Investment strategies used to implement any investment advice given to you may include the following: long-term purchases (securities held at least a year); short-term purchases (securities sold within a year); trading (securities sold within 30 days); short sales; margin transactions; option writing, including covered options, uncovered options, or spreading strategies.

RMR cannot guarantee the results of advice given. In addition, all investing carries a certain amount of risk, and you may lose money by investing with us or any other investment management firm. Mutual funds are used in our primary investment strategies. In addition to systemic or market risk (risk associated with the market in general), you may be exposed to other various kinds of risk, including the following:

- Interest-rate risk (the fluctuation of interest rates affecting prices)
- Inflation risk (inflation reducing the buying power of a dollar most associated with fixed income products)
- Liquidity risk (the speed or ease of converting an investment into cash)
- Reinvestment risk (the ability to reinvest income, for example, at the same rate as the original investment)

- Regulatory risk (changes in the regulatory environment for businesses or business sectors, or tax or other laws)
- Currency or exchange rate risk (the uncertainty of the value of foreign currency fluctuations)

Item 9 – DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

RMR has no legal or disciplinary information to disclose pertaining to the evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Item 10 – OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Representatives of RMR may recommend to client's bank deposit accounts and services offered by the Bank of Milton and the Bank of Edgerton which solicit clients on RMR's behalf. Representatives may also recommend tax services and consulting offered by KMA S.C. KMA Financial, LLC also solicits clients on RMR's behalf. Thus, RMR representatives may have a conflict of interest when recommending Bank of Milton, Bank of Edgerton, or KMA services.

We may recommend TD Ameritrade to you for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between our participation in the program and the investment advice we give you. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers.

The custodians recommended by us may also, among other services, carry client accounts on their records, process transactions ordered by RMR, provide computer access to us for client positions and provide quotes and data needed by us for our reports to our clients. These services are provided to us at minimal or no cost. We believe that use of the recommended firm(s) is a convenient means of obtaining efficient transaction executions, account data and reporting services for securities positions. However, receipt of such services at minimal or no cost also creates an inducement and conflict of interest for us since referring clients to any other firm(s) may result in higher reporting and overhead costs to us.

Item 11 – CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

RMR has established a Code of Ethics addressing standards of business conduct, including the charge to act with integrity, competence, and dignity always, and to adhere to the highest ethical standards based on principles of openness, honesty, and trust. The Code further states that all access and supervised persons recognize the fiduciary duty we have to all clients including priority of client trades and reporting and supervision of “access person” trades (those with knowledge of trading activity in client accounts). In addition, all employees are required to follow the codes of ethics associated with their professional designations, as well as those imposed by state and federal regulatory authorities.

RMR’s Investment Advisor Representatives and employees may purchase or sell investments that are also recommended to clients. The firm has procedures applicable to all persons at the firm who have access to confidential client records or to recommendations being made for client accounts. Designed to prevent conflicts of interest between the financial interests of clients and the interests of RMR’s staff, the procedures require such access persons to report certain transactions before they occur and quarterly, and to report securities positions annually. These reporting requirements allow supervisors at RMR to review transactions made or anticipated to be made in the same securities for client accounts. The procedures also establish certain bookkeeping requirements relating to these internal reporting rules. A copy of RMR’s Code of Ethics is available upon request to any client or prospective client.

Item 12 – BROKERAGE PRACTICES

RMR does not have specific brokerage practices related to providing Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis; or Retirement Plan Consulting services unless offered through our wrap program. For our remaining services, which do have brokerage practices, please see Form ADV Part 2A, “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1, Item 5.

Item 13 – REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

RMR Investment Advisor Representatives, Mr. Erik Mikkelson and Mr. Doug Giageos are responsible for review of client accounts, financial plans, and each report RMR provides you. Mr. Mikkelson and Mr. Giageos both received their Certified Financial Planner™ practitioner (CFP®) designations. Mr. Giageos has also received his Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation.

RMR’s Investment Advisor Representatives perform the advisory services for our clients. As your advisors, they provide you with a review of your financial situation as frequently as deemed appropriate (preferably at least once each year). This may include review of your goals and assumptions, financial statements, cash flow and taxes, investments, retirement projections, insurance, estate, and general financial planning. Managed portfolio investment accounts are reviewed quarterly or more frequently as contributions and economic situations change (see Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure, Item 4 for more details). Clients receiving Financial Coaching, Planning or Specific Analysis services receive updates in the frequency and scope specified in their services agreement.

Item 14 – CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

We receive an economic benefit from the custodians we use in the form of the support products and services they make available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts with those custodians. The products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 10 above (Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations) and in our Part 2A “Wrap Fee” Appendix 1 Brochure (Item 4, Services, Fees, and Compensation – Brokerage Practices). The availability to us of the custodians’ products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying securities for our clients.

If you are introduced to RMR by a solicitor, RMR may pay that solicitor a referral fee. Any such referral fee will be paid solely by RMR and will not result in any additional charge to a client. The solicitor will provide you with a copy of our written disclosure document along with the solicitor's written disclosure statement containing the terms and conditions of the solicitation arrangement with us, including compensation, at the time of the solicitation.

RMR has solicitation agreements with two entities. RMR has a solicitation agreement with the Bank of Milton (the “Bank”). RMR is not affiliated with, managed, or controlled by the Bank. Pursuant to the solicitation agreement, RMR may pay the Bank a portion of the investment management fees it receives from accounts referred by Bank employees and members of its Board of Directors. Whether RMR must make this payment is made on an account-by-account basis and is determined by whether the total amount of fees paid by each referred account is above a set dollar amount. The total investment management fees charged to clients does not increase because of RMR’s arrangement with the Bank.

The Bank provides clients with a copy of the Bank’s written disclosure statement containing the terms and conditions of the solicitation agreement with us at the time of the solicitation.

RMR also has a solicitation agreement with KMA Financial, LLC (“KMA”). RMR is not affiliated with, managed, or controlled by KMA. Pursuant to the solicitation agreement, RMR may pay KMA a portion of the investment management fees it receives from accounts referred by KMA employees. Whether RMR must make this payment is made on an account-by-account basis and is determined by whether the total amount of fees paid by each referred account is above a set dollar amount. The total investment management fees charged to clients does not increase because of RMR’s arrangement with KMA.

KMA provides clients with a copy of their written disclosure statement containing the terms and conditions of the solicitation agreement with us at the time of the solicitation.

From time to time, RMR refers clients to other professionals such as accountants and attorneys. RMR may have a conflict of interest related to such service providers in that our interest in obtaining future advisory client referrals from these professionals may be opposed to the client’s interest in being referred to a professional services provider that best suits their needs. RMR may also have an incentive to prefer their accounts over other clients because of the referral history.

RMR may sponsor social events for clients, the expenses of which may be paid, in whole or part, by firms whose products and services are recommended to clients by RMR portfolio managers. The firms absorbing such expenses may include mutual fund companies whose shares are recommended, attorneys whose services are recommended, brokerage firms through which client account transactions are processed and other firms. These expense reimbursements may create a conflict of interest for RMR if we are inclined to continue to recommend the products and services of these providers due to the financial support provided to RMR by them. In addition, RMR may periodically be invited to attend conferences, social events, or other activities at the expense of firms whose products and services are recommended by RMR. These also potentially create a conflict of interest in providing services to our clients.

Item 15 – CUSTODY

RMR does not take custody of your funds or securities. The custodian of your account(s) provides custody for your funds and securities. The custodian provides quarterly, or more frequent, account statements directly to you at the email or postal mailing address you provide the custodian. You are urged to carefully review statements and compare the information in those received from RMR with the information in the statements received from your account custodian.

As an RMR client, you have the ability, via your account custodian to register for password-protected Internet access to your accounts, including balance updates and transaction histories. The custodian provides you with either paper, via US mail, or electronic (at your discretion) monthly or quarterly statements (reports) and trade confirmations. These monthly or quarterly reports, provided by your custodian, give detailed information such as change in the account's value compared to the previous month, current value of all account holdings, and a detailed transaction history for the reporting period.

Item 16 – INVESTMENT DISCRETION

RMR does not exercise discretion when providing Comprehensive Financial Planning Services; Financial Coaching, Planning and Specific Analysis Services; or Retirement Plan Consulting Services described in this brochure (unless under our wrap fee program). For investment discretion under our remaining services, see our Part 2A "Wrap Fee" Appendix 1 Brochure.

RMR does not have discretion over the selection of broker-dealers or custodians to be used but will recommend broker-dealers/custodians. RMR is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with any broker-dealer or custodian. The final decision as to where to custody assets is at your discretion.

Item 17 – VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

RMR does not vote client securities (proxies) on your behalf. However, should you have questions about proxies or other solicitations you receive directly from a custodian or transfer agent, you may contact us with questions (via letter, phone, email or in person).

Item 18 – FINANCIAL INFORMATION

RMR does not take custody of your funds or securities, nor do we require prepayment of more than $500 in fees per client six or more months in advance. As such, no financial disclosure is required. RMR does not have any financial condition that is likely to impair our ability to meet our contracted commitment to any client.

Since its inception, RMR Wealth Advisors, LLC has been on solid financial ground. On April 8, 2020, in response to circumstances brought about by COVID19 conditions; the adviser obtained Paycheck Protection Program (“PPP”) loans of $71,630.00 for financial assistance to aid in the payment of the salaries of employees who are primarily responsible for performing advisory functions for the firm. Outside of the above, neither the adviser nor its management has any financial conditions that are likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to referred investors. There are no additional financial circumstances to report. The above-mentioned PPP loan was forgiven on January 27, 2021, for the whole amount of $71,630.00 plus interest of $567.07.

ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS/CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Mr. Mikkelson is on the managing board of a hunting lodge which was formed to own and operate real estate property and other investments. A client of RMR is also on the managing board, and another RMR client owns the hunting lodge. Mr. Mikkelson also owns commercial rental property with a client of RMR.

Some of the largest clients of RMR are also a managing director or part of the portfolio management team for the Artisan Fund’s investment manager. RMR may recommend and purchase Artisan Funds for client accounts resulting in fee income to the Funds’ manager. Since RMR receives substantial income from these clients, recommending the Artisan Funds creates a potential conflict of interest.

RMR does not guarantee the results of the advice it gives. Thus, losses can occur by using RMR's services.

Notice Regarding Treatment of Confidential Information

Privacy Notice to Our Clients: RMR strongly believes in protecting the confidentiality and security of information we collect about you. This notice describes our privacy policy and how we protect your personal information.

Why We Collect and How We Use Information: When we evaluate your request for our services, provide investment advice to you, and process transactions for your accounts, you typically provide us with certain personal information necessary for proper planning and transactions. We may also use that information to offer you other planning services to meet your investment and planning objectives.

What Information We Collect: The personal information we collect may include: 1) Name, address, phone numbers, email addresses; 2) Social Security or taxpayer identification numbers; 3) Financial assets and net worth; 4) Income; 5) Account balances and positions; 6) Investment activity; 7) Accounts at other institutions; and 8) Personal and/or family situation and objectives.

How We Protect Information: We do not sell or provide your personal information to anyone other than what is required to establish accounts with custodians or other financial service providers. Information collected in connection with, or in anticipation of, any claim or legal proceedings will be shared with appropriate legal and professional outside advisors.

We treat information about current and former clients and their accounts in a confidential manner. Our employees may access information and provide it to third parties only when completing transactions or providing our other services to you. We restrict employee access to your information on a “need to know” basis when such information is required to perform services on your behalf.

At your request, we may disclose information to or from attorneys, accountants, securities firms, and others to assist us, or them, in providing services to you. We may also share information with companies that perform services on our behalf, such as the companies that we retain for marketing or administrative services. Companies we retain to provide support services are not allowed to use your personal information for their own purposes. We may make additional disclosures as permitted by law.

We also maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect information. Employees and our professional service representatives are required to comply with our established information confidentiality provisions.

Access To and Correction of Information: Upon your written request, we will make available information for your review. Information collected in connection with, or in anticipation of, any claim or legal proceeding will not be made available.

If your personal information with us becomes inaccurate, or if you need to make a change to that information, please contact us so we can update our records.
